

MEXICO threatens to deport the American hoboes, who flock to its more salubrious climate every winter. It is a good scheme. These vagrants are the worst of their class, and are a pest which we have no right to unload on our neighbors.

But there is also another and less abject kind of American whose visits to Mexico, in our own interest, should be discouraged. That is a certain class of American tourists who ride in Pullman cars and put up at the best hotels, but who know of Mexico before they go only that it is "wet," and who find out nothing else while there. Mexico is indeed "wet," but it is also sober. If these tourists would learn to emulate Mexican decency in exercising the privilege, they might bring back a valuable lesson. But that is not what they go for, nor what they learn. What the Mexicans learn from them is that Americans have much money, but little gentility in using it. It is not a true picture of America, and it is a pity to have it drawn.

IT WOULD be a calamity to Italy, I said Mussolini's organ, to have the country populated entirely by Fascists, with no opposition.

One wonders whether there is not more danger of America being the first to lose the wholesome restraint of an opposition. Would it not be a calamity also to America to be inhabited entirely by Republicans? Yet, if the Solid South were broken, that might happen. And the South may soon break. Florida is having such an influx of new population, most of it traditionally Republican, that there will be no time to assimilate it politically.

That may make Florida a Republican state in a few years. There are other parts of the South due for a boom next, and one of these is North Carolina, where it is already respectable for a white man to be a Republican and there is a very substantial Republican organization.

It would not take many such Southern booms to break the political solidarity of the South. And then the Democratic party might become nationally what it already is in many states: it has no chance of success.

It is doubtful if it could survive national hopelessness as long as it sometimes does local defeats. The thing is not merely speculatively possible. It may be real. Then, with no traditional opposition party, the dilemma of those who have trusted to the established parties to prevent the development of a radical party would be serious.

A N AVERAGE session of the British Parliament will have less than 300 bills introduced, and few of these pass. On the first day of the present session of Congress, the Senate introduced 955 bills, and the House of Representatives 2927. By the end of the week, the House record was 4430. Probably the total will reach thirty thousand, this congress.

Allowing for average sessions daily, with the usual holidays, and giving one minute apiece to the bills, it would take all the session, from now until the anticipated adjournment date in June, just for that one minute apiece, if no other business were transacted.

It would be barely enough for the mere form of introducing them, if that were done in open house, one at a time, as used to be done.

To give even one in a hundred of them real consideration is, of course, a physical impossibility. And yet, Congress insists on tackling the job by methods invented when there were fewer bills introduced in ten years than are now presented in a day.

MUSSOLINI pays the United States a perhaps undeserved compliment. He says that, alone among nations, we regard work not as an irksome necessity, in order to live, but as the very purpose and joy of life.

We welcome life, because it is a chance to work, and rejoice in a rich continent, because it gives us something to work on.

This may be too high praise, as to our actual achievement, but surely it is none too high an ideal to aspire toward. When God laid on Adam the curse of work, he also sowed for him the seed of progress. Work, even the humblest, is its own reward. The street sweeper must needs get wages to live, but his most direct reward is the clean street, made so by his effort.

The mason sees a wall come into existence which will outlast him and house unborn generations. He has projected himself into something eternal. So far as America has done by this spirit, it has led the world.

Probe Ordered On 'Aluminum Trust'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Without objection, the senate today authorized a thorough investigation in the activities of the so-called "aluminum trust," of which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is the controlling force.

The resolution, drawn by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, prosecutor of the Teapot Dome scandal, authorizing the senate judiciary committee to begin an investigation forthwith, was adopted when Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, Republican, and friend of Mellon, withdrew his objection.

Cardinal Takes Turn for Worse

BRUSSELS, Jan. 6.—The condition of Cardinal Mercier has suddenly taken a grave turn for the worse. The King, the papal nuncio and all Belgian bishops visited his bedside this evening.

PAPERS FOR EXTRADITION ARE SIGNED

Attorney to Appeal Case Of Confidence Man Held For Violation of Parole

AL SMITH SAYS LITTLE

Lawyer Asserts Client Is Wanted in California for Purely Political Reasons

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Although Gov. Al Smith consented to sign extradition papers for the return of Everett Hutchings, paroled swindler, to California, the convict predicted today he would not be sent back to the western state for many months, if at all.

The case of "Big Hutch" will be appealed on a writ of habeas corpus to the New York courts and to the U.S. supreme court, if necessary, Hutchings' lawyer said today.

His statement followed last night's action by Governor Smith in granting the extradition to California of Hutchings, who is on parole from the San Quentin penitentiary, where he was serving a term as an alleged swindler.

"I have decided to sign the extradition papers and that is all I care to say," Governor Smith told newspapermen when the announcement of his decision was made.

Hutchings' attorney charged his client was wanted in California "for political reasons" and that there was no charge that his parole had been violated.

While the governor at Albany was acting on the case, Hutchings made formal appearance in court here and his bond of $1500, which had been subject to forfeit for non-appearance on Monday, was ordered restored. His case in the local court was set for hearing January 18.

Harry Lutgens, secretary to Gov. Friend William Richardson, of California, who represented the western governor at the extradition hearing, probably will remain here until there is a definite disposal of the case.

ANOTHER BUNKO MAN RETURNED TO PRISON

SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, Jan. 6.—While the governor of New York was approving extradition to this state, another Los Angeles confidence man, Fred Mayen, was returned from parole and placed in a prison cell here.

Mayen, sentenced in 1921 to seven and a half years for grand larceny, under conviction of obtaining $300,000 in bumbo deals, was paroled in November, 1924, to Oregon, where employment awaited him.

Mayen's return was brought about by Governor Richardson, who revoked Hutchings' parole, and it is believed the governor plans to use Mayen in trying to prove his allegations that some Los Angeles officials aided bumbo men operating there.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF CHINA TO QUIT

PEKING, Jan. 6.—Tuan Chi Jul, chief executive of China, has prepared a notice of his resignation and has telegraphed Gen. Feng Yu Hsiang an appeal to assume again his responsibilities, declaring that conduct of the government otherwise was impossible.

Recent advices from China said Tuan had arranged for creation of a full Chinese cabinet, though word indicated there had been difficulty in finding men for the same. Feng gave notice a few days ago of his intention to stop soldiering and go to Europe. He has been the main support of Tuan's feeble regime, hitherto.

YUMA INDIAN CHIEF AIRS TROUBLES IN U. S. COURT

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Uniform divorce legislation was taken up today by the executive committee of the American Bar association, which opened a two-day meeting here.

The lawyers believe that there is too much variety in the divorce statutes of the various states.

"It is one of our biggest legal problems," declared Frederick E. Wadham, treasurer of the association. "A standard basis for divorce in all states should be agreed upon. It would eliminate many of the conditions existing today because of variegated divorce regulations."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Philip S. Teller, of San Francisco was recommended to President Coolidge today by Senator Shortridge, Republican, from the appointment to one of the two vacancies on the shipping board. Shortridge presented Teller personally to the president.

Chief Ca-Poo-Ey, picturesque head of a tribe of Yuma Indians, has brought his grievances into federal court here.

The aged chieftain hobbled into court today on a home-made pegleg and accused J. D. Reeves, white rancher, of assaulting him with intent to kill.

Woman Crawls In Furnace As Sacrifice

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Jan. 6.—A sorrowing family today prepared for the funeral of Mrs. Margaret House, who crawled into the furnace of her home here "as a living sacrifice to the Lord."

Frank House, her husband, said she had been in poor health and had been greatly wrought up over a revival meeting. Repeatedly since the revival, she had told neighbors she was going to give herself as "a living sacrifice."

House, awakened by songs and prayers in the basement, found his wife with the upper part of her body in the furnace. She was terribly burned and died a few hours later.

SCOTT TO FACE TRIAL FOR DRUG CLERK'S DEATH

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—When Robert Scott faces trial here for the murder of Joseph Maurer, drug clerk, he may find his own brother, Russell T. Scott, denouncing him as a murderer.

For it is Russell who all along has characterized Robert as the man who fired the fatal shot into Maurer's body and then dropped out of sight while he (Russell) stood trial for the murder and went through the ordeal of three times being snatched from the gallows.

Robert Scott, for more than a year and a half a hunted man, was discovered in San Quentin penitentiary, serving a sentence for a store robbery under the name of John Redding. He expressed his willingness to return here and will be returned to stand trial.

Friends of Russell see in Robert's arrest a chance to obtain freedom for Russell from the asylum, but information obtained at the state attorney's office here has this as doubtful. George E. Gorman, an assistant state's attorney, said no one but the governor could bring about Russell's release and added that the facts would never justify that.

The state's attorney's office was interested today in reports from the Pacific coast that Robert had confessed to a cellmate that it was he and not Russell, who fired the fatal shot.

WILL PAPOLE SCOTT TO ILLINOIS OFFICERS

SAN QUENTIN, Jan. 6.—Prison authorities here today checked a report that Robert Scott, convicted under the name of John Redding, had confessed to a cellmate that he killed Joseph Maurer, in Chicago. Scott will leave the prison on parole, as he had planned before he was identified, but it will be a parole to Illinois authorities, and he will be returned to Chicago to stand trial. The prison board has arranged this procedure so that, in event Scott is freed on the Chicago charge, he may be returned here to complete his sentence for a San Francisco holdup.

Board Hears Plea To Save Lawrence

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 6.—The state board of pardons met here today and heard the plea for commutation of sentence of William Lawrence, Oklahoma murderer, condemned to be hanged Friday for the slaying of Police Officer Haze Burch.

Lawrence's attorneys presented the board with a petition bearing more than 5000 signatures, pleading that the condemned man be given a term of life imprisonment instead of hanging.

Lawrence was convicted of shooting the Phoenix officer during the holdup of an oil station.

Killed When Car Leaps Over Cliff

STOCKTON, Jan. 6.—The body of Reginald Blanche, 19, local youth, was being brought here today from the High Sierras, where he met death under his automobile.

Blanche was reported missing Saturday, his body found after a three-day search, under his overturned automobile, at the base of a 250-foot cliff on the Big Oak flat road, between Sonoma and Groveland.

Death of Blanche was due to strangulation, caused when he was unable to lift the automobile from his chest and throat. Acids from the battery had poured on to his face, disfiguring the features.

Son Pours Milk, Olive Oil, Down Mother's Throat After She Drinks Poison

DANCER WILL RECOVER

Actress Is Believed to Be Out of Danger, Following Attempt to Kill Herself

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Rapidly recovering from the effects of the poison she swallowed, Evelyn Nesbit prepared today to face her 17-year-old son and explain her attempted suicide.

The former wife of Harry K. Thaw passed a satisfactory night and was believed to have passed out of the danger zone.

Miss Nesbit's son, whom she has named Russell, was partly responsible for saving his mother's life. Asleep in an adjoining room when his mother's maid found Miss Nesbit suffering from the poison and screaming for help, Russell quickly found a medical book, turned the pages rapidly for advice, and then poured olive oil and milk down his mother's throat. This, according to attending physicians, helped him in the fight against the eight ounces of lye she had swallowed.

Russell had come to Chicago to spend the holidays with his mother and was preparing to return to his school in the east. The near tragedy has changed his plans, however, and he is now waiting until the physicians allow him to enter his mother's room at the hospital so that he can talk to her. He hopes to get a satisfactory explanation of his mother's attempted suicide.

CRASH INDICTMENT WILL BE SOUGHT

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—The Los Angeles county grand jury continued its investigation of the Pasadena grandstand crash today, examining a score of witnesses.

District Attorney Asa Keyes, who is prosecuting the probe, declared today he would present an indictment to the inquisitors tomorrow.

The prosecutor would not reveal whom he had in mind. At the Pasadena inquest, blame for the stand collapse was laid to Paul F. Mahoney, builder, and the Pasadena building department.

Funeral services were held at Pasadena this afternoon for Mrs. P. S. Borich, one of the victims of the crash. She is survived by her husband, P. S. Borich, of Dallas, Tex., and two daughters, Mrs. John Pickett, Denver, and Miss Pauline Borich, Denver.

FROLKON ALLEGEDLY mastermind of the crash, was indicted by the grand jury.

The tabulation throws the matter of Brookhart's election up to the committee for decision. Validating of all the contested ballots would give Brookhart a small majority, but if some of them were held invalid, the decision could be swung either way.

The revised totals are a result of the recent conferences held by attorneys to eliminate as many contested votes as possible. By agreement Brookhart conceded 1163 votes of Steck's that he had previously contested, and Steck conceded 14 votes additional to Brookhart.

Uncontested ballots for Brookhart, 443,831.

Steck ballots, contested by Brookhart, 1063.

Although the figures gave Steck a majority of 5276 in uncontested votes, Brookhart claimed division of the contested ballots would ultimately substantiate his own election.

Four of the alleged principals, including L. A. London, manager of a branch of the Hellman bank, are under arrest. London's co-operation with Fronk enabled the latter to engineer a gigantic check kiting scheme, it is charged.

Fronk is said to have $200,000 of the loot in his possession. He was sought at both the Mexican and Canadian borders, officers suspecting he had fled from the country.

Fronk was head of a well known finance company here, which maintained luxurious offices throughout the city. He kept two sets of books, it was alleged, to cover up his misdeeds.

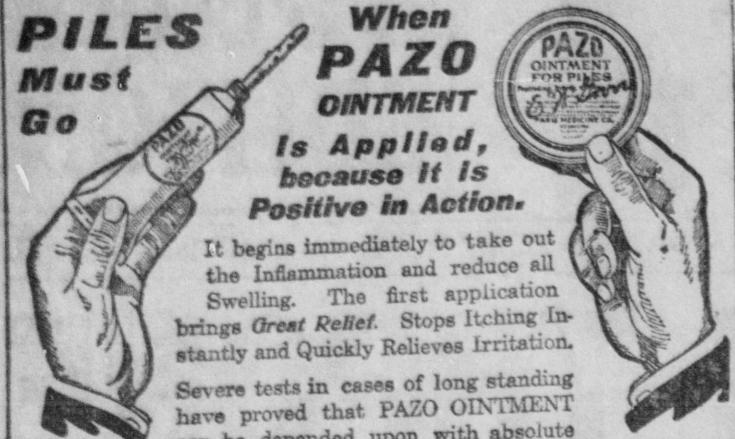

The grand jury plans to investigate the swindle after it has completed probing the Pasadena grandstand crash.

Picture Double Lands In Prison

(By United Press)

FOLSOM PRISON, Jan. 6.—An all-night search of the prison grounds had failed today to reveal the whereabouts of three convicts, missing at lockup last night.

The missing prisoners include Benjamin Davis, serving a life term for murder. Davis was committed from Ventura in 1916. The others are Kenneth Carlson, Santa Clara county, serving from one to 15 years for burglary, and Frank L. Perry, received Aug. 27, 1925, from Los Angeles, where he was given from five years to life for robbery.

$10,000 ASKED BY YOUTH FOR AUTO INJURIES

Erstwhile companions on a motor trip into the mountains and now opponents in a lawsuit that grew out of an accident which marred the outing, two Santa Ana boys, Edward Gaebe and Fayette Birtcher, faced each other today in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court.

Young Gaebe, who is 14, is suing the father of young Birtcher for $10,231.55 damages because of injuries he claims to have received when the Birtcher automobile turned over an embankment in the Big Bear grade, 10 miles south of Seven Oaks.

The accident occurred last July 7, as members of the two families were returning from the outing. Some of the Birtchers were hurt also. Edward Gaebe, it is alleged, received a fracture of the right leg, lacerations of the face and body, and still suffers with headaches as a result of his injuries.

Fayette Birtcher was driving the car, which belonged to his father, Justus Birtcher, building contractor, residing on East Myrtle street.

The damage suit was brought by Gaebe through his father, E. F. Gaebe, represented by Attorneys S. B. Kaufman and W. F. Menton. Justus Birtcher, named defendant in the suit, was represented by the firm of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhau. Trial was held before a jury.

Edward Gaebe was the first witness summoned by his attorneys to describe the accident and his injuries. The defense contends that the boy was guilty of contributory negligence.

Baritone Singer Dies in Hospital

J. Ray Lagie, 29, a baritone singer, under the supervision of Fanchon and Marco, with the West Coast theaters, died last night at 6 o'clock at the Santa Ana Valley hospital, after an illness of several days.

Lagie was in Santa Ana with the Simonet sextette, a musical number with last week's Fanchon and Marco "Idea." He became ill while here and was removed to the hospital on December 31.

Lagie was a native of Canada and his home address was 32 Front street, West, Toronto. He leaves a cousin, Mrs. J. R. Goodwin, 601 South Main street, Santa Ana.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

SUPERVISORS MAKE ANNEXATION MOVE

As a result of action taken yesterday by the county supervisors, that portion of the Garden Grove grammar school district, lying east of the Santa Ana river, and adjoining the Diamond grammar school district, was formally today annexed to the latter district, County Supt. R. P. Mitchell announced. The action of the supervisors was in response to a petition filed by a number of voters living in the annexed district. By operation of law, the annexed portion becomes a part of the Santa Ana high school district, it was explained.

Prince Inspires Argentine Trade

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Trade follows the Prince of Wales. Four trainloads of British window frames have been bought in Argentina, which, before the Prince's visit, had purchased such goods in the United States and Germany.

In 1916, Welch was a candidate for governor of New York on the Prohibition ticket. He served as president of the village of Wakefield for six terms. He was a member of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1921, and has been prominent in work connected with various other religious and charitable organizations.

Halt Elopers at Mexican Border

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 6.—Her elopement with Isaac Felix, Mexican youth, frustrated by her mother, Harriet Thompson, daughter of a wealthy Troma mining operator, has left for her home.

The youthful couple and a brother of the girl were apprehended by police as they were about to enter Mexico, where Felix and the girl were to be married.

Felix is being returned to San Bernardino by Deputy Sheriff Weaver, of that city, according to the girl's mother, he will be charged with the theft of the woman's automobile.

WILL CONTEST IS DISMISSED BY JUDGE WEST

Contest of the will of Vicente Peracovich, Huntington Beach woman, whose $15,000 estate was sought by relatives omitted from the will, was dismissed by Superior Judge Z. B. West after a hearing of charges made by William Lubura and John Lubura, brothers of the deceased.

The brothers claimed that undue influence had been used upon their sister just before her death, to influence the willing of her property to new nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Jurkovich of Huntington Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Jurkovich received property at Huntington Beach, while other property, in Jugo-Slavian, was left to a brother, Guro Lubura, who resides in that country. William Lubura lives in Los Angeles and John Lubura in San Francisco.

They claimed that the nephew and niece had excluded visitors from the bedside of Mrs. Peracovich just before she died and made her believe that her brothers had died some time ago. The charges were not sustained when the hearing in court was held, Judge West dismissing the contest.

Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, Santa Ana, and L. E. Blodget of Huntington Beach, were counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Jurkovich.

MAKER OF GRAPE JUICE SUCCUMBS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 6.—Charles Edgar Welch, 73, originator of Welch grape juice and prominent manufacturer, died here today of heart disease, while at the breakfast table with his sister, Mrs. John W. Thomas, of Lynnwood, N. J.

Welch was born in Watertown, N. Y., in 1852. He began the practice of dentistry in Philadelphia and later headed the Welch Dental company. In 1896, he became associated with the grape juice manufacturing business and was president of the Welch company, of St. Catharine's, Ont., for many years.

In 1916, Welch was a candidate for governor of New York on the Prohibition ticket. He served as president of the village of Wakefield for six terms. He was a member of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1921, and has been prominent in work connected with various other religious and charitable organizations.

GIRL WILL NOT TELL IF SHE WILL WED

MILAN, Jan. 6.—Madame Magda Lupescu, whose romance with Prince Carol of Rumania, has provoked a political crisis in Rumania, was interviewed for the first time by the United Press.

When seen in her suite in the Hotel de la Ville, she was dressed in ultra fashion, but her pale face indicated that the events of the past few days had brought her to the verge of a breakdown.

She begged the correspondent to "respect the painful situation of a poor woman against whom the world is now justly cruel."

When asked if she would marry the prince, who has just renounced his rights to the Rumanian throne, Miss. Lupescu replied:

"Please be generous and do not insist on an answer."

SHORT SPORTS

* NEW YORK—New York and St. Louis are still negotiating over a deal involving Marty McManus, the Brown's second baseman, Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, said today. He denied that a deal had been made with Washington, involving Waite Hoyt and Ervin Ward.

* ANNAPOLIS, Md.—Athletic officials of the Naval academy intimated today they would prefer calling off the annual football game with the Army team, which had been anticipated with the selection of the site. It was pointed out that it would take a small fortune to send the Midshipmen and the team to distant points like Chicago for the game.

* CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Declining interest in college baseball at Harvard was indicated when a curtailed schedule of 19 games was announced for the coming season. No explanation was offered.

* NEW YORK—Switzerland has filed the first challenge for the 1924 Cup competition the United States Lawn Tennis association announced. The team will play in the European zone.

YOUTH WILL BE TALK KEYNOTE AT P.-T.A. MEET

"Fellowship of Youth Movement for World Wide Peace" and "Methods of International Co-operation Among Young People to Foster Good Will and to Prevent War" are subjects to be discussed by various speakers at the next general meeting of the fourth (Orange county) district, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held next Saturday in the Garden Grove high school. It was learned today from district officers.

Listed among the speakers on these topics are Miss Jennie B. Lasby and Miss Lella Watson, of the faculty of the Santa Ana junior college, and Miss Mabel L. Sharpe, of the faculty of the Fullerton junior college, all of whom visited Europe last year in connection with post-graduate studies.

According to Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, district president, the problem of preventing war is one that strikes directly at the heart of every mother, hence it is a subject of intense interest to every P.T.A. member.

The question of preventing war is not one to be left to the good will of senators and congressmen, but is a problem that should receive the earnest attention of every progressive citizen, Mrs. Snow declared, urging that every member make a special effort to be present for the addresses.

One of the first aims to promote international good will is to establish a better understanding through educational measures, she continued. To that end, children in all countries are being encouraged to make personal contacts, the Red Cross having initiated the exchange of letters between children of various countries.

With the spread of the P.T.A. movement to other countries hope is entertained by American P.T.A. workers that this agency may be employed in furthering the cause of peace, Mrs. Snow concluded.

CONVICT ATTEMPTS ESCAPE

FOLSOM, Calif., Jan. 6.—W. S. Richards, convicted of robbing a branch of the Bank of Italy at Woodland, was closely confined here today after an ineffectual attempt to escape. Richards was hiding under a freight car about to leave the prison stone quarry when he was discovered by a guard.

The nomination probably will be sent to the senate today.

Caffery, who is a member of the professional diplomatic corps, is a native of Lafayette, La., and a graduate of Tulane university. He is 40 years of age.

Youth Kills Self When Denied Auto

OCONTO, Wis., Jan. 6.—Claiming he was denied the use of an automobile and that he was tired of "bumming" rides all his life, 18-year-old Orville Pomp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pomp, farmers living at Little River, Wis., shot and killed himself.

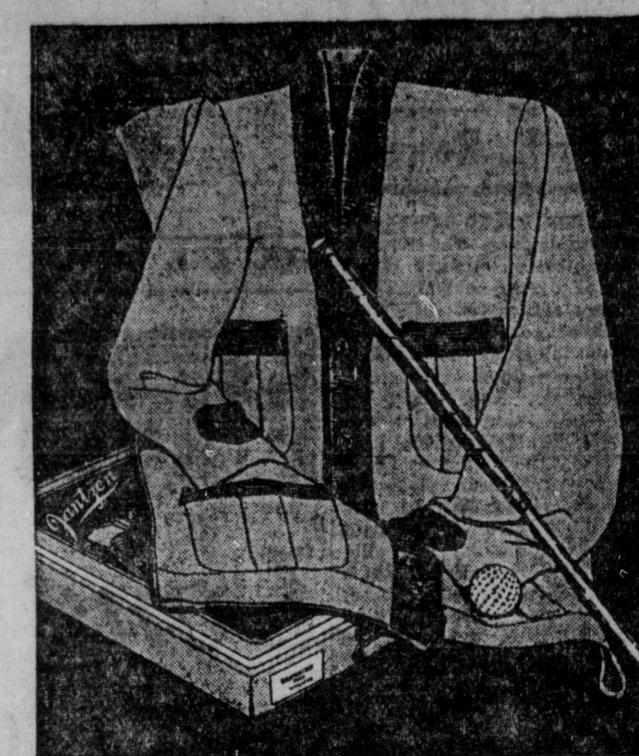

JURY DECLARES DEATH OF MAN AS ACCIDENTAL

A coroner's jury in an inquest over the body of Joe Garner, Bishop rancher, who was killed yesterday morning at Newport beach, returned a non-committal verdict at the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors at 11 o'clock today. The verdict read: "Death from gunshot wounds in the head from his own gun. No evidence that it was suicide and we feel that it was accidental."

Relatives of the man testified that they knew of no reason why Garner should take his own life and that for the last several days he apparently was in the best of spirits.

C. S. Mills, Costa Mesa, testified that he had made a trip with Garner, shortly after Christmas, in an automobile and that Garner was cheerful throughout the time and gave no hint that he was despondent or worried. It also was testified that he was not financially wedged.

No funeral arrangements have been completed other than that services will be held here and burial will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

A WORD OF COMFORT
Wise men among us are voice-ing a warning less and less because we have realized that protection will be made almost exclusively for training which will "make money."

Capacity amass a fortune will not soothe an heart-ache nor assuage a sorrow. We must see to it that the mind and the spirit are cultivated to consume our strength in great souls among men and with God. Only through such fellowship can we hope to attain vision and courage.

BRADLEY—At Ramona Calif., January 6, Mrs. Jennie R. Bradley, aged 87 years, mother of Edgar Bradley of Santa Ana. Services will be held from the Congregational Funeral home at a time to be given later.

TRUMPPY—At Garden Grove, January
4, 1926. Mrs. Emma M. Trumppy, aged 64 years. Funeral services will be held Thursday, Jan. 7, at 2 p.m. from Zion Evangelical church, corner Tenth and Main, Smith &
Tuthill in charge.

LOGGIE—In Santa Ana, January 5,
1926. J. R. Loggie, aged 31 years.
Notice of funeral arrangements will be given later by Smith & Tuthill.
Mr. Loggie was a cousin of Mrs.
J. R. Goodwin of this city and a resident of Toronto, Canada.

The kind of court is that we want to join? Who can trust a court which is organized for the purpose of lending moral support to so-called sanctions, e.g., invasion of a vanquished nation's territory; to annexations called mandates, e.g., Syria and others, to the occupation of territory when there is not the shadow of ownership, e.g., the Mosul oil fields by Great Britain, simply because great natural riches exist there?

By joining the "World Court," the league court, we endorse all these iniquities. If our courts were organized to favor the rich and the powerful and to give moral support to the oppression of the weak we could rise in revolt.

We are told most persistently and insistently that the league of nations and its useless appendix, the "world court," are the great factors for the peace of Europe, and that if we would only join we could insure the peace of the world. But did we not make "war to end war"? Is not this our great accomplishment? Satirically we answer, yes. In fact, we see the leading nations of the league at present engaged in war: France against Morocco and Syria, or threatening war, as Great Britain against Turkey to gain the Mosul oil fields.

Why do honest-to-goodness pacifists oppose our joining the so-called "world court"? Why do we, who genuinely want peace and were willing to be subjected to RUB their sore little throats and chests with Musterole. It will give them prompt relief, and you may forestall cough, or worse.

Musterole gives all the advantages of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister. Apply it lightly with your finger tips. Its first gentle tingle is followed by a soothing, loosening sensation as the oil of mustard in Musterole penetrates the skin.

Doctors and nurses recommend Musterole for both children and grown-ups. Keep a jar at all times.

Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy,

"More Style for No More Money"

Class Reunion Gives Much Pleasure to Young People

One of their semi-annual reunions was enjoyed by members of the 1922 class of Huntington Beach high school when they met on a recent evening in this city with Miss Cleo Bowers of 1520 West Washington street.

For the past two years, the class has observed the custom of meeting at six-month intervals, alternating a banquet with an informal evening party. All members are enthusiastic about the class spirit thus maintained and the happy evenings that result. The recent event was no exception and Miss Bowers and her mother, Mrs. C. A. Bowers, offered a delightful hospitality.

The home was gay with emblems and appointments in the class colors of green and yellow. A short business meeting was devoted to election of officers with Mrs. Lester Lewis of Huntington Beach named as president and Mrs. Irwin Green, secretary. The remainder of the evening was devoted to games, music and general merriment with appetizing refreshments playing their part in the general good time.

The meeting was opened with a short devotional service led by Mrs. Fannie Lash who read a chapter from a Bible more than 50 years old. After the devotional service Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, president, gave a brief talk, in which she told of the uses to which the money made at the party was to be put. Mrs. Nicholson said that there was a sailor's and soldier's home in San Diego, an old ladies' home and a girl's welfare home in Los Angeles that are being supported by money raised by the W. C. T. U. This year the annual national convention will be held in Los Angeles which will also call for financial aid from local societies according to Mrs. Nicholson which explains the need of raising more money.

On the program were two lads, Raymond Hutchins and Edgar Thomas, who played a cornet duet which was very beautiful. Mrs. F. T. Porter gave a reading in her most charming manner and responded to the applause with a delightful little encore number. Mrs. H. M. Sammis favored with two lovely songs, "Calm as the Night" by Bohm and "The Little Angel Band" by Grant-Schaefer. Mrs. Estelle Harper, county president, was introduced to the guests by Mrs. Nicholson after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses who were Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, Mrs. Leonore Ward, Mrs. W. B. Tedford, Mrs. Fannie Lash and Mrs. J. E. Kellogg.

The guests went to the party attired in hard-time costumes which created a spirit of merriment, which was carried through to the entrance of the new year with games and the enjoyment of refreshments. Prizes for the raggedest costumes were presented to Mrs. Richard Dobson and Robert Smith.

Besides the hosts those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Arlan Purington, Earl Smith, Robert Smith, Frank Rounds, R. H. Dickson, Lynn Hutchinson, Alex Winters, Jay Brooks, Lloyd Brooks and Richard Dobson.

The plant wizard announced today that during the year just closed he has perfected seven major creations and improvements.

After 26 years of experimentation Burbank has created a new camassia, a striking blue flower.

From his rainbow corn, Burbank has produced the rainbow teosinte, a plant that grows eight feet tall and bears from eight to 14 ears to each stalk.

Third is a new giant cactus flowering zinnia.

FARM NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

BIG INCREASE IN VALUE OF FARMS SHOWN

Agricultural Lands, Buildings, Jump $100,000,000 In Last Five Years

California farm lands and buildings have increased in value nearly $100,000,000 in the last five years and the California farmer is rapidly getting away from products of the ground to the higher priced products of the tree and vine.

These facts are revealed in the 1925 farm census of California just released by the department of commerce.

Such well known products as corn, wheat, oats, barley, sorghum, rice, beans, hay and potatoes, in the production of some of which California has at times held the supremacy of the nation, no longer appeal to the farmers of that state and in each instance considerably less was produced in 1925 compared with 1920. The production of corn was only a third of what it was five years ago, oats one-half, wheat less than one-third, barley three-fourths, rice one-half, beans less than one-half, hay three-fourths, and potatoes one-eighth.

Trees and Vine Products Increase.

But on the other hand, products of the tree and vine jumped tremendously. Despite prohibition and the thousands of vineyards that were torn up just prior to the taking effect of the Volstead act, California had 273,000 grape vines in 1925 compared to only 174,000,000 in 1920. Apple production showed a gain of a million bushels. With peaches there were more than 4,000,000 new acres of peach orchards in 1925 and the yield was 3,500,000 bushels less than in 1920. Twice as many peaches were grown and one-third more prunes. There were 16,000,000 orange trees in 1925 compared to 12,700,000 five years ago. Lemon production is about the same, but there are 600,000 grapefruit trees now compared to 300,000 in 1920.

The livestock industry also fell away, hog raising dropping to one-half what it was. Horses and mules have both suffered to a considerable extent as their places are taken on the farms by the gasoline motor. There is but little change in the cattle industry.

Report Shows More Farms.

One encouraging feature pointed to by Secretary Hoover with much pride is the fact that the number of farms has also increased. There were 117,000 in 1920 and now there are 136,000, of which only 14 per cent are operated by tenants compared to 21 per cent in 1920. The number of farm owners increased from 87,000 to 109,000 while the tenants decreased from 25,000 to 20,000.

Federal Farm Facts

The engineers of the Bureau of Chemistry, U. S. department of agriculture, have recently developed new apparatus for exploding industrial dust by electric sparks.

The war on insect enemies of plants and animals continues with increasing energy. Among the destructive insects given attention by the entomologists are the Japanese beetle, the cotton boll weevil, the European corn borer and the Mexican bean beetle.

Farrowing records of 574 sows on 68 Kansas farm demonstrations conducted last year by the Kansas State Agricultural college extension service indicate that exercise and protein foods are among the most important essentials of winter brood sow management.

Practical tests show that papers suitable for wrapping apples, oranges, lemons, pears and tomatoes should weigh 10 to 12 pounds per ream of 300 sheets 24 by 36 inches in size and should have a bursting strength of not less than six points.

American farmers pay $50,000,000 each year in beef, milk and hides because of the "warble" according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

MAKE GOOD HEADWAY IN FIGHT TO CURB TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE GOVERNMENT REPORTS INDICATES

According to the United States department of agriculture, the outlook for suppressing tuberculosis among dairy herds is most favorable, the result of co-operation by state and federal agencies in fighting this disease.

A condensed report covering a period of eight years shows that 4.9 per cent of the 134,143 cattle tested in 1918 were reactors, while only 3.1 reactors were discovered in the 7,000,023 tested in 1925.

The decline in the per cent of reactors, though striking, does not necessarily mean that the disease is being eradicated at quite so rapid a rate," says a report by the department of agriculture.

"Early in the work, the testing was conducted more largely in herds suspected of being infected. In recent years there has been more testing on a county-wide basis, in which all herds were tested, whether suspected or not. The figures presented show unmistakable progress in reducing the extent of bovine tuberculosis in the United States."

long greenhouse—that isn't exactly a greenhouse—is being used by agricultural scientists in an attempt to discover just what rays of the sun help plant life.

The greenhouse is part of the extensive equipment at the Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research at Yonkers, N. Y. What makes it different from other greenhouses is the various shades of glass used to permit separate color rays of the sun to penetrate into its partitions.

Starting with the green glass used commonly on greenhouses, this experimental greenhouse has divisions of glass ranging from this type to a deep brown. Primary, secondary and even tertiary colors of the rainbow are arranged in order on the roof and along the sides of the house, so that the rays of the sun may find as many different kinds of obstructions to their complete penetration into the house.

Thus the part of the greenhouse covered with red glass permits only the red rays of the sun to penetrate to the plants within, while the other rays are absorbed by that glass.

Absorbs Other Rays

Colored glass has the property of absorbing all rays of sunlight except those forming its color. That is how we see colored light and that is how the colored light is used to affect the plants under the glass.

The greenhouse at Yonkers is divided into about 12 different shades, each division consisting of numerous panes of glass six inches square.

The same group of plants is duplicated under each division, having been planted at the same time and in the same way. Thus effective and true comparisons can be made in the development of the plants.

This study of plant life under various color rays isn't new to scientists. One of the leaders in this work is Lord Clifford of Chudleigh.

He started studying the development of plant life under various color rays, but gave that up when the work directed him into the study of light as a cure for human diseases.

Copper conductors should weigh not less than 3 ounces per foot; iron not less than 320 pounds per thousand feet, or a little over 5 ounces per foot, says the weather bureau of the United States department of agriculture.

Lightning conductors should be attached direct to the surface of the building without insulators. The air terminals to protect upward-pointing parts of the roof should be secured against overturning by the wind, and the ground connections extended downward to permanently moist soil, usually found at a depth of eight or 10 feet below the surface. All joints should be permanently made and of low electrical resistance.

Plants have been under investigation in these greenhouses for over two years. Some definite trends have been noted under the various colors, but no conclusion has as yet been drawn.

In the end, the scientists hope to find a cure not only for some of the ravaging crop diseases of today, but to be able to find a definite color light under which certain crops may develop more vigorously.

Truck farmers, especially, may expect considerable help from this research.

U. S. Animal and Farm Products Exports Lagging

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Indications are that our net food exports for the crop year 1925-26 may fall below the annual average for the five years immediately preceding the war and may even approach the low mark of 1914-15 when this country imported almost as much in the way of foodstuffs as it exported.

In the years before the World War, net exports of food products from the United States declined rapidly, and export statistics just compiled by the U. S. department of agriculture show that this trend is being resumed.

The rapid decline of exports since the war is not an indication that the resources of the soil are approaching exhaustion, but are taken merely as a sign that the farmers have not had a sufficient incentive in the way of profitable returns to keep pace in their production with the increase of home requirements.

A similar trend has taken place in the animal and animal products group. Since 1914-15 there has been a constant drop in our animal and animal products exports.

Are You Worn Out

When you get up in the morning as tired as when you went to bed, when you are all-in upon the least bit of exertion. When you are listless, pepped and a mere shadow of your former vigor, virile self you can be sure that your body is out of order and needs medical attention. You can be sure that some of your organs are not receiving sufficient nerve energy to allow them to function properly. You can be sure that somewhere in your body you have a nerve pressure (pinched nerve) which is the cause of your present condition.

An X-Ray examination will show the exact location and extent of this pressure. It will be a conclusive proof as to the cause of your trouble, one that you can see with your own eyes and one that you can depend upon. That is why we use it in our work.

We would no more think of adjusting a person without an X-Ray picture than a carpenter would think of building a house without a rule. We do not believe in guesswork when the health of our patients is at stake. If you wish to learn the real facts of your case

England Drops
Broad Arrow As
Mark of Convict

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The British "broad arrow" is to disappear from prisoners' clothing. The broad arrow is the mark used in English prisons to designate convicts as stripes are sometimes used in this country.

The move has been taken in order to remove unnecessary degradation from prisoners, whose sentences may be the result of circumstance or of error.

The broad arrow was adopted as the badge of a criminal about the end of the seventeenth century. At that time the Earl of Romney found that the government had no distinguishing mark with which to brand its possessions. The result was that losses through theft were heavy.

He, therefore, caused all materials under his control to be marked with the phon or broad arrow, a part of his own coat of arms. Since the clothing of the prisoners is a government function, it has followed that all prison wear has been marked with the broad arrow.

The outstanding gain was in citrus fruits, where the aggregate returns to growers were the largest in the history of the industry.

The walnut output exceeded even the 1919 crop, which previously was the record year. Although raisin production was short, the fresh grape crop was the largest in the history of the state.

Field crops were more variable, but the monetary returns were in excess of 1924 and the five-year average.

Money conditions are easy throughout the Pacific southwest territory the report declares. The extent of crop returns is revealed by increased deposits and marked liquidation liquidation of loans in county district.

Building activity has shown little change. The 1925 total is only three per cent less than the 1924 level. A substantial volume of new buildings for the port of 1926 is in sight, it was added.

Dr. E. C. Levy, city health director of Tampa, who came here a few months ago from Virginia, where he had gained a wide reputation in health work, took the matter before the Florida League of Municipalities, at its recent meeting in Orlando, and for two hours or more the subject was discussed in all its phases.

A large part of Florida's present population, Dr. Levy explained, is living in the tourist camps, and although they are governed by state regulations, health officials are so busy with other work which is increasing rapidly because of the state's growth, that they are unable to give proper attention to the motor camps.

"Many of the camps," Dr. Levy said, "have room for as many as 200 automobiles. A camp of 200 machines constitutes a population equivalent to a small city. The camp manager is the sole official—the health officer, chief of police, fire chief, mayor and everything else. If he is not a man of extraordinary ability, he falls down and conditions result which would not be tolerated in an organized community."

"The small camps spring up so quickly—and many of them in places away from the beaten path—we can not keep check on them."

Dr. Levy has appealed to camp owners to consult the city health department regarding camp sanitation and to prospective camp owners to submit their plans to the health department for possible suggestions which would solve their sanitary problems and make living much more desirable for those who are living in tents to escape the winter blasts of the north.

GODFREY FAVORITE OVER MONTGOMERY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—George Godfrey, negro heavyweight, who challenges Jack Dempsey for a championship fight every time he wins a battle, is favored to make another pie to the heavyweight champion after his 10 round fight with Sully Montgomery, former College football tackle, here tonight.

Betting odds favored the "big black" today because of his experience. Montgomery is much faster than Godfrey and this might turn the tide of battle, but it is doubtful if Montgomery can take all Godfrey's punches. The fight will be staged at the Olympic auditorium.

House Ransacked;
Watch Is Stolen

A watch, valued at $10, was stolen from the home of G. M. Lambert, 311 West Washington street, last night, shortly before 9 o'clock, by a burglar who ransacked the house, according to a report filed with the police this morning.

Entrance into the house was made by prying open a back bedroom window. The burglar visited all rooms in the house, and left them in disorder.

Other than the watch, nothing was reported stolen.

COURT RULING PROVIDES FOR MORE SEAMEN

IS CRAWFORD BABY
FIRST 1926 CHILD?

Was George Wendell Crawford, 6-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Crawford, 1101 West First street, the first Santa Ana 1926 baby?

Merchants of Santa Ana have offered a number of prizes to the parents of the first New Year's baby, and so far as can be determined at this time, the Crawford child is the winner.

The decision will force owners and operators of American ships to use a greater number of seamen than has been customary.

The suit was brought by two quartermasters, William O'Hara and Sven Tiersland, against the Luckenbach Steamship company to put an end to "kalash" watches on American ships—a system whereby more work is got out of a crew of seamen by making most of them "day men" and working them a straight eight hours throughout the day instead of placing them into regular watches of four hours on and eight hours off.

The suit for wages was brought on the ground that the seamen's act had been violated by not dividing the seamen equally between watches instead of seven and three.

The shipping company answered that the word "divide" in the act did not mean equal division.

California courts decided against the quartermasters.

LAGUNA VOTES UNANIMOUSLY FOR $600,000 WATER BONDS

Not One Dissenting Ballot Cast on Proposition for Installation of System

438 GO TO POLLS IN SPECIAL ELECTION

Wild Excitement Follows Announcement That Proposition Wins Approval

Establishing what is believed to be a world record for towns of 1000 population or more, Laguna Beach yesterday passed the $600,000 water bond proposition by a vote of 437 to 0. The total number of votes in the affirmative was 438, but one person marked the ballot with a pencil, making it void. The vote is the largest number ever cast in Laguna Beach.

Scenes of wild excitement greeted the news of the unprecedented victory and the members of the water board, Joseph R. Jahraus, president; Frank B. Champion, Thomas A. Cummings, George S. Johnston and James E. Neel were given a big ovation.

The unanimous bond victory was attributed to the community spirit that binds Laguna Beach together for big things.

98 Per Cent of Vote Cast

Of the voters actually in town and not ill, the number voting represents 98 per cent, according to a careful check made by H. H. Henshaw, chairman of a special committee appointed by H. G. Heisler, president of the chamber of commerce, to assist voters to the polls. Owing to deaths and removals since Jan. 1, 1924, an accurate percentage of the total registration is difficult to figure.

Laguna Beach will go to the Santa Ana river basin for its water, the district having purchased 120 acres of water-bearing lands upon which wells will be sunk. The water will be brought a distance of more than 12 miles to the western line of the district and the storage system will be composed of a receiving sump, a reservoir of 2,500,000 gallons capacity, one of 1,500,000 gallons capacity and three of 100,000 gallons capacity. A new distribution system will be installed immediately, so far as the principal mains are concerned, and what is needed of the present distribution system will be turned over as a gift by the Skidmore Brothers corporation, according to announcement by Joe Skidmore.

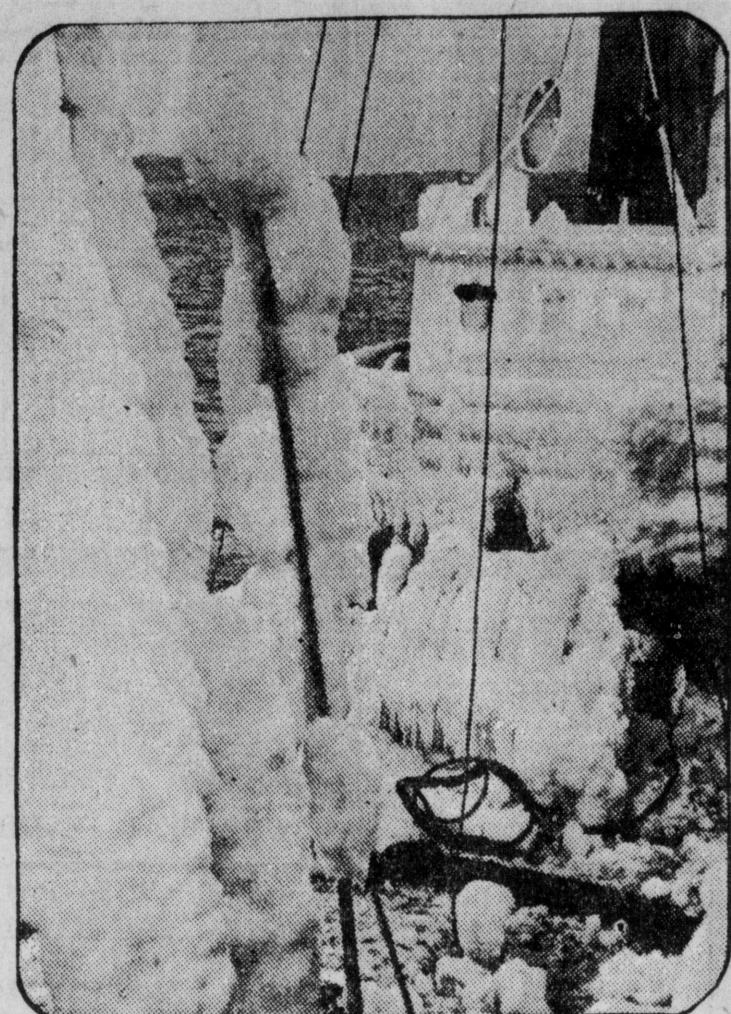

Yesterday's vote was a demonstration of what people will do when forced to a necessity, according to Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana, attorney for the water district.

Unable to Find Air Mail Craft Reported In Sea

Despite a report last night in Huntington Beach, to the effect that a navy air mail plane had dropped into the ocean about one-half mile off the coast of Huntington Beach, officers, who received the message, were unable to locate any trace of the plane.

According to Chief of Police John Tinsley, a message was received from a Los Angeles newspaper, stating that a wire from San Diego had informed them that a plane had plunged into the ocean off the coast of Huntington Beach. Tinsley and his officers patrolled the coast line during the night but did not sight the reported missing craft.

Officials at Newport Beach heard nothing of the plane and a report from the San Pedro radio air base revealed that no report of a missing plane had been received at that station.

ORANGE COUNTY TO ENTERTAIN EDITORIAL MEN

Supervisors Authorize Appropriation of $2000 to Fete Scribes and Wives

Orange county will entertain visiting editors from all sections of the United States during one day of the National Editorial Association's convention in Los Angeles next June.

This was decided late yesterday, when the county board of supervisors authorized an appropriation of $2000 for the purpose, that amount being the estimated cost of acting host to a thousand editors and editors' wives for one day.

The supervisors decided to place the named appropriation at the disposal of a committee of commercial secretaries, under the direction of Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county publicity director. This committee will arrange the entertainment program, which now tentatively includes a breakfast for the visitors at San Juan Capistrano, where they will enter the county, a tour of all sections of the county, with a barbecue at noon in the county park.

County officials regard the appropriation as an investment in nation-wide publicity that could not be purchased at any price from the newspapers represented at the convention but which will be voluntarily donated by the editors in their home-coming reports of the convention.

The exact date of the editorial sojourn in Orange county has not yet been ascertained by the committee.

The itinerary of the delegates while in Southern California is known to include a trip by special train to San Diego. It is planned to meet the special, on its return trip, at San Juan Capistrano and take the editorial party from the train there.

COUNTY STUDENTS WILL GET DEGREES

Three hundred and twenty students, among them several from Orange county, were recommended for degrees at the University of California, following the end of the first term of the academic year, according to word received in Santa Ana from Recorder James Sutton.

Of the 320 degrees to be granted, 254 are to students who have completed their under-graduate work; 46 will be given master's degrees and 20 will receive the doctor's degree.

Included in the list of graduates are Lillian Elizabeth Matchman,

Fullerton; James Earl Clabby,

English, Orange; Marie Campbell,

psychology, Orange; Roy Elliott

Samuel Gilbert Clark, geological sciences, Anaheim.

PROMINENT MEN TO ADDRESS OFFICERS

The first 1926 meeting of the Orange county Peace Officers' association will be held at St. Ann's Inn at 7 o'clock tonight and will be preceded by a dinner, according to an announcement made today.

Joe Burke, former U. S. district attorney, will be the principal speaker of the evening. He will talk on "Education and Law."

Other speakers announced will be Jack Wallace, Santa Ana realtor; Frank Purinton, new mayor of Santa Ana; Coronor Charles D. Brown and W. J. Carmichael, police commissioners of the city of Fullerton.

Mrs. Robert Shaffer will have charge of the musical end of the entertainment, according to programs sent to members today.

'YOURSELF' IS TOPIC OF TALK BEFORE ROTART

Santa Ana Body Address By Pastor in Fullerton Program Presented

"There is no subject in the world that you may know about that is important to you as knowledge of this one subject—yourself."

This was declared by the Rev. George Tinsley, pastor of the First Christian church, of Fullerton, in a speech before the Santa Ana rotary club yesterday.

The program yesterday was charge of the Fullerton Rotary club, of which F. C. Krause, Fullerton banker, is president. Judge E. Marks was chairman for the day.

The address of the Fullerton editor was declared by members of the Santa Ana club to have been one of the most inspiring talks delivered before the club.

A ceremony yesterday with pride of Ralph Smedley, was a tribute to the club to the memory of one of the best known and best liked members of the club, Frank L. Andrew, whose death occurred the day previous. Mac O. Robbins, W. H. Sagoon Jr., and Alex. Brownridge appointed as a committee to draw up resolutions expressing the sorrow of the members of the club upon the passing of Mr. Andrew.

Next Monday, Santa Ana Rotarians will present the program for a heating club.

S. A. MAY HAVE FIVE BASKETBALL TEAMS

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Heading into the 1926 season Babe Ruth faces the turning point of his career, a cross-road leading either to more success on the diamond or an exit from baseball.

Babe has one year more to serve on a $52,000 a year contract with the New York Yankees and if he fails to perform as the highest salaried player in baseball should, he will be just a ball player when the time comes to talk terms for a new contract.

There is said to be a clause in his contract giving his employer the privilege of reducing his salary when he failed to live up to his end, and the Babe went so badly last season that he was threatened with a reduction in salary.

After he had weakened the team by an absence of six weeks with illness resulting from his failure to keep in condition, the Babe demoralized the players when he returned by a flagrant disregard for the club rules.

His insubordination finally reached the point where the manager of the team fined him $5000 and sent him home with an indefinite suspension plastered on him.

This started an awakening process in the Babe and he became so penitent that he offered a public apology to his manager, which was declined graciously.

The Babe suffered another humiliating experience when he was told by his employer that he was no good to the club and that he would be traded if it didn't happen that no club in the major leagues would take him and his white elephant contract.

Ruth promised to get back on the job and report in shape to play in the spring. He intended to take the course of bridge and baths at Hot Springs but was notified by the office that if he went he would have to pay his own expenses.

He went into the Canadian woods on a hunting trip with a number of other ball players. He rode in on a horse and came back on his dogs under his own power.

He then placed himself under a physical culture expert and agreed to take a course that would reduce his weight and strengthen his legs.

"If you're going to work with me, I'll have to do it," the instructor told him.

The day when he must give up active baseball is not a pleasant prospect for the Babe. He made a fortune when he was going good but it is all gone now and he has nothing to show for it but a memory with a lot of headaches.

He is not constructed mentally to take any part of life seriously, but he must have had a shock when he started counting the money he had and hasn't now.

Unless he has enough money to make him independent, he has only one trade to fall back on when he reaches the end of his baseball career and that trade is—cigar making.

Walker Displays Trophies of Hunt

Trophies brought home from the hunts of H. J. Forgy, A. J. Crookshank and Frank Walker, well known Santa Ana sportsmen, today were put on display at the Victor Walker sporting goods store, 219 West Fourth street. The display includes numerous deer heads.

VETERAN NAT OUTFIELDER HAS BEST SEASON

$10,000 L. A. TOURNEY LURES SCORE OF U. S. GOLF STARS; QUALIFYING ROUND IS FRIDAY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—When the entry list for the Los Angeles $10,000 open golf tournament is closed late today it will contain the names of virtually every leading golfer in the country. For nearly every state stellar golfer has come here to compete in one of the richest tournaments of the season.

Ask your grocer for Pan-Dandy Bread. Gee, but it's dandy bread.

The 72 holes of medal play to determine the winner of the West's biggest golfing event will be played over the picturesque Los Angeles Country club golf course Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Tomorrow a preliminary amateur-professional tourney will be played on the same course.

For the course on which the tournament will be played is 72. There is one extremely difficult hole, the fifth on the north course. This is known as the "grand canyon" hole and will probably cost many of the golfers their chance to win the event.

The favorites include Bill Mehlhorn, MacDonald Smith, Al Espinoza, Mel Smith, Harry Cooper, Bob Cruck, W. At Watrous, Harold Sampson, and George Von Elm.

A protest against a "belated change in playing conditions" was entered by the visiting professionals today.

The protest deals with a notice posted at the Los Angeles Country club late yesterday. Teh notice declared that owing to the large number of entries it would be necessary for half of those qualifying to play the south course Friday and the half that plays the north course Friday will play the south course Saturday.

Tut' Imlay Asks To Oppose Grange

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—The Frances E. Willard junior high school first string basketball team proved too much for the Huntington Beach high school Class C (110-pound) five yesterday, defeating the Oilers by the decisive score of 22 to 8.

Willard made most of its points in the last half due to the shooting of Bob Ashton, star forward.

The Huntington Beach quintette showed good teamwork but did not have the men to put the ball in the basket. Mollica, Oiler forward, made all but one of his team's baseball is filled with oddities. The eleventh season of Sam Rice's big league career is one of them.

Eleven years ago Sam Rice joined the Washington club as a pitcher. He had starred in the Virginia league and was regarded as a great prospect.

Tomorrow Sam Rice is one of the greatest outfielders in the majors. Last season was by far the most brilliant of a rather meteoric career.

Rice came to the Washington club in the fall end of 1915, so in reality last year was his tenth full campaign.

Used to be Pitcher

Great speed and the ability to hit soon caused the Washington club to believe that Rice would prove more valuable as an outfielder than a pitcher.

It was Rice himself who decided the question and it came about in a most peculiar manner. Things were breaking badly for him as a pitcher. He finally forced the Detroit club to go extra innings. Pitcher George Dauss of the Tigers broke up the game with a three base hit.

"I'm through as a pitcher," were the first words Rice uttered as he stepped into the clubhouse. "I'm either an outfielder or nothing."

Inside of a year he had so developed that he was regarded as one of the leading outfielders in the league. While not a slugger, Rice has always been dangerous at the bat.

He's "Man O' War"

"Man o' war" the fans call him in the national capital as a tribute to his great speed. It has not diminished with age or service.

Always a great outfielder, Rice last season was one of the outstanding.

Owner Clark Griffith of the Nationals is hoping so.

points. He and Ashton were the stars of the contest.

If Willard plays all the games of its league schedule like it played yesterday it should win the championship of the county.

The lineup:

Willard Huntington Bch. Cooks (4).....F. (1) Adams Ashton (16).....F. (7) Adams Faulkner Hudgen.....C. Silhust Chase.....C.

Substitutes: Willard: Cummings for Cooks; Nacarath for Chase; Youel (2) for Webber; Stratton for Hudgen; Larson for Youel; Vance for Cummings; Huntington Beach: Graham for Adams; Whiteman for Dart.

BOXING BOARD HANDS WALKER $30,000 JOLT B. PAGE LEADS HARBOR LEAGUE CLUB SWINGERS

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Reprisals against prominent boxers who flaunt the rules or the personal wishes of the New York boxing commission are to be continued according to a member of the board.

The summary action against Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion, was equivalent to a fine of perhaps $30,000 and it is just the starter of a new plan of action the commission has decided on as a treatment for avaricious boxers.

As a personal favor, the commission asked Walker to meet Tommy Milligan, the British champion in one of the feature bouts on the Christmas fund card.

Demanded $30,000

Walker demanded $30,000 and when he was told that there was a rule against guarantees, the welterweight champion stubbed his toe and said he would not be able to box for any price.

Tex Rickard then matched the pair to meet January 22 in the Garden and it was understood that Walker was to get 37½ percent of the house.

Walker spent considerable money in training and was nearly bowled over when he was told that the commission thought his toe was not in good shape and that he couldn't fight. It is probable that the commission will give him the remainder of the indoor season to get his toe in working order.

Tunney, Shade Worried

Gene Tunney and Dave Shade two of the most prominent fighters, were also wondering today what kind of a club the commissioners were getting ready to use on them.

Shade was asked to meet Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, in an elimination bout to decide the challenger for Harry Greb, the middleweight champion, and his manager offered $25,000. The commission frowned and indicated that the shade firm would do well to think it over.

Tunney was ordered to report on once just what he intends to do about a promise he made to meet Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, next month.

Paul Berlenbach has been ordered to give Mike McTigue a return bout for the light heavyweight championship and Charley Rosenberg, the bantamweight champion, is on the list for consideration.

McTigue, the shade firm, will do well to think it over.

Taxes Are Paid
By Corporations
Under Protest

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 6.—A new attack on the constitutionality of the state corporation tax loomed today.

Several hundred foreign corporations, in California and other states, have come under protest and announced that suit would be instituted to recover payment.

The companies contend that the license fee is illegal for the reason that it is really a tax on property.

300 BANDITS IN BIG SILK ROBBERY

HONGKONG, Jan. 6.—Three hundred bandits yesterday, by a daring trick, perpetrated the biggest silk robbery in the history of South China when they raided Yung Kee, one of the largest silk houses here. The bandits, who are believed to be members of the "Red Gang," were armed with rifles and shotguns. They were captured after a short struggle with the police.

After capturing the robbers in the city, the bandits demanded their uniforms and despatched the volunteer police by telegraph to the "new garrison" for the place.

It is believed that they were able to take possession of 30 warehouses from which they removed the silk to Macao and escaped.

THE FOREMAN'S REPORT

A spinster living in a London suburb was shocked at the language used by two men repairing telegraph wires close to her house.

She wrote to the company on the matter, and the foreman was asked to report.

This he did in the following way:

"Me and Bill Fairweather were on this job. I was up the telegraph pole and accidentally let the hot lead fall on Bill. It went down his neck. Then he said: 'You really must be more careful, Harry.'—Weekly Scotsman.
